Privacy of user information

We collect only the pertinent information necessary to sign you up as a member, make and confirm your reservation. We do not sell, rent, or give away user information except in cases where you specifically request it. You will never be tricked into signing up for anything. Options to receive more information will always be clearly explained to you and your participation in any promotion is strictly optional. The information you see posted on the Web site is all anyone outside of our company sees.

Travel Related Services

To provide you with a single source for purchasing resort vacations that include other travel related services we have entered into agreements with select reputable third party travel companies that aggregate inventory information from suppliers. If you desire to purchase a package that is facilitated through Host Vacations you will be linked to a Host Vacations branded website that is hosted by the travel company. If you choose to purchase a package, it is necessary for you to provide personally identifiable information to execute the purchase. This information is then provided to the suppliers (e.g., resorts) for processing. We have entered into contracts with these third party travel companies requiring that they secure your personally identifiable information as well as use it only to execute the transactions you request. The same security and privacy commitments have been obtained from the suppliers. However, you should be aware that any personally identifiable information you have supplied directly to a supplier in any manner in the past or in the future is subject to their privacy statement and practices for which Host Vacations has no responsibility.
